Lesli Suggs
President & CEO
The Home for Little Wanderers
Boston, MA

A tireless advocate for the most at-risk children and families for more than 35 years, Lesli Suggs was appointed President & CEO of The Home for Little Wanderers in January 2018, becoming the first social worker in over a generation to lead the historic organization. With over two decades of experience in child welfare and behavioral health, Lesli understands the specific needs of the children served by The Home. She brings a courageous drive to ensure the organization's 30+ programs continue to serve and positively impact the greatest number of at-risk children possible.

Throughout her career, Lesli has worked with vulnerable children and families in a variety of different roles and settings, including residential & special education, adoption & foster care, community mental health, sexual abuse and trauma. Her passion, dedication, direct service expertise and extensive knowledge of the field of child welfare place her in a unique position to lead The Home.

Lesli joined The Home in January 2011 as Senior Director of Community Based and Behavioral Health Programs and then became the Vice President for Program Operations before being appointed President and CEO. Under Lesli's leadership, The Home has grown to serve children and families across three states and includes a dedicated team of nearly 1,000 professionals.

Lesli was recently named one of Boston Business Journal's 2023 Women Who Mean Business. She has been named Top 100 Women Business Leaders in Massachusetts two years in a row by The Commonwealth Institute. She serves on several boards including International Women's Forum where she is Program Chair, Board Director and Vice Chair of Association for Behavioral Health, Board Director and Public Policy Chair of The Provider's Council, Board of Advisors Flair Education, and Board Member The Children's League. She also served as Board Director and Treasurer of Link House Inc.

Lesli holds an M.S. in Social Work from Simmons College. She received her B.S. in Social Work from Texas Christian University. Originally from Texas, she raised her three children in Newburyport and now lives in Boston. She enjoys traveling, biking, and has run The Boston Marathon.
